

Hand-In-Hand for Strong, Sustainable Poultry Packaging

Wax-free and water-resistant, Greencoat coated boxes protect your fresh poultry products, the environment, and your bottom line.

Introducing Greencoat, the ultimate 100% recyclable box built from five years of focused research and development. We worked with one of the largest poultry processors in the country to create a corrugated box that's wax-free, just as strong as wax curtain-coated boxes, and guaranteed to save you money.

If you're a poultry processor or a foodservice distributor, Greencoat boxes are built to protect poultry against temperature shifts from cold to hot, rough handling along the supply chain, and the challenges of long storage and transportation it takes to get to your customer.
